Course Overview

This executive leadership program is designed to equip senior leaders with the advanced knowledge, mindset, and skills required to thrive in today's complex and disruptive business environment. Participants will explore the inner identity of effective executives, learn to build and sustain organizational culture, engage with markets and competition, and drive strategies from design to execution. The program emphasizes the dual role of executives as visionaries and implementers, enabling them to create sustainable value while maintaining personal resilience and ethical integrity. Through practical frameworks, real-world insights, and reflective practices, executives will prepare to navigate uncertainty, lead transformation, and secure their legacy as future-ready leaders.

Course Objectives

By the end of the Leadership Programme for Senior Executives , participants will be able to:

- Evaluate personal leadership capabilities, and benchmark against globally recognized leaders.
- Influence the culture within their organization through higher engagement and employee involvement.
- Create value by applying vital executive skills across the full range of responsibilities.
- Evaluate organizational and workplace disruptions and take advantage of opportunities to maintain a competitive edge.
- Write a personal executive agenda that drives top performance personally and organizationally.
